Our culture is rooted in giving back through volunteer time and financial contributions to a variety of community organizations.

Atlantic Union Bank is proud to support community-based organizations through corporate gifts, including grants and local event donations, volunteerism and financial education. Our core values – caring, courageous, committed – are woven into our community efforts and culture of giving back.

Community Impact Plan. In conjunction with the merger with Sandy Spring Bank, AUB will launch a five-year Community Impact Plan. This $11.7B plan builds on our long-standing commitment to advance economic opportunity in our communities, including low- and moderate-income and underserved communities. It sets forth our commitment to help drive economic growth and financial access through home mortgage loans, small business loans, community development loans and investments, philanthropy and more.

Volunteerism. Teammates are encouraged to give their time through volunteerism. All full-time Teammates are allocated 16 hours each year to participate in volunteer efforts. In 2024, Atlantic Union Bank Teammates provided 12,942 hours of volunteer service in our communities.

Financial Literacy. We partner with Banzai, an online financial literacy resource, to bring financial education into communities we serve. Since 2018, Atlantic Union Bank has facilitated over 25,366 student logins through 317 educators and 181 schools. Other support tools include our Solutions Banking Program and financial calculators that help others reach their financial goals.

Local Fundraising & Donations. We support philanthropically centered events where we can all come together, celebrate and make a difference in our local communities. Requests for fundraising and donations support can be submitted through our website, AUBCares.com.
